

The Adam Smith Society

The Oxford & Cambridge
Society of Northern Italy

lectures 1995

rome

milan

The Adam Smith Society

Via Cornaggia, 10 - 20123 Milano
Tel. (02) 85141

The Oxford & Cambridge Society of Northern Italy

c/o The British Council
Via Manzoni, 38 - 20121 Milano
Tel. (02) 781749 / 782018

The British Council

Via Quattro Fontane, 20 - 00184 Roma
Tel. (06) 4826641

The British Council

50
ANNI IN ITALIA

After the fall of the Berlin Wall it seemed that only one ideology would dominate the world for the foreseeable future: liberalism. Today, the negative experiences of the renaissance of nationalism, the spread of religious fundamentalism and the continuous dispute between classic liberals and social democrats impose a re-thinking of the concept of liberalism itself. To this purpose the Adam Smith Society, together with the Oxford and Cambridge Society and with the support of the British Council is organising a series of conferences on "Liberalism Today" with some of the most distinguished Italian and British liberal thinkers. Our hope is to discuss and clarify the liberal viewpoint on the most important social issues of the post communist world.

Alessandro De Nicola, President, The Adam Smith Society

MILAN Palazzo Affari ai Giureconsulti
Sala Parlamentino - Via Mercanti 2, Milano
20.00 cocktails
21.00 lectures & debate

ROME The British Council
Salone - Via Quattro Fontane 20, Roma
20.00 cocktails
21.00 lectures & debate

March
2 Models of International Economic Organisation
Andrea Comba, Professore Ordinario di Organizzazione Internazionale, Facoltà di Giurisprudenza, Università di Torino
Lord Harris of High Cross, Founder President, Institute of Economic Affairs, London

April
5 Liberal Theory of Taxation
Gianni Marongiu, Professore di Diritto Tributario, Facoltà di Giurisprudenza, Università di Genova
Patrick Minford, Professor of Applied Economics, University of Liverpool

May
2 Von Hayek and the Austrian School
Francesco Perfetti, Direttore, Istituto di Scienze Politiche, Facoltà di Magistero, Università di Genova
Eamon Butler, Director, Adam Smith Institute, London

June
2 Liberty and the Juridical Order
Enrico di Robilant, Professore Ordinario di Filosofia del Diritto, Facoltà di Giurisprudenza, Università di Torino
Kenneth Minogue, Professor of Political Science, London School of Economics, London

Speakers will normally deliver their talks in their own language

October
4 Von Hayek: Socio-Political and Historical Aspects
Stefano Monti Bragadin, Professore di Sociologia Politica, Facoltà di Scienze Politiche, Università di Genova
Max Hartwell, former Chairman of Mount Pelerin Society, member of the Academic Advisory Council, Institute of Economic Affairs, London

Nov.
8 Popper and the Public Choice
Domenico Da Empoli, Professore di Finanza degli Enti Locali, Facoltà di Scienze Politiche, Università La Sapienza, Roma
John Burton, Professor of Business Administration, Birmingham Business School

Nov.
22 Society as Unintended Order
Lorenzo Infantino, Professore di Sociologia Economica, Facoltà di Scienze Politiche, LUISS
Sir Alan Peacock, Executive Director, David Hume Institute, Research Professor, Esmee FairBairn Research Centre, Heriot-Watt University, Edinburgh

Dec.
13 Deregulation and Antitrust
Franco Romani, Membro, Autorità Garante della Concorrenza e del Mercato, Italia
Deepak Lal, James S Coleman Professor in International Development Studies, University of California

Speakers will normally deliver their talks in their own language